Overview

Dr. Jyoti Wadhwa is a highly respected Medical Oncologist and Precision Oncologist with more than three decades of experience in comprehensive cancer care. She is currently associated with Apollo Hospitals, Delhi, and is widely recognised for her depth of clinical expertise, academic excellence, and leadership in advancing personalised oncology treatment in India. Dr. Wadhwa received her core medical training at AIIMS, New Delhi, including MBBS, MD, and DM, and further strengthened her credentials through international exposure at Imperial College London. She is a Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh, reflecting global recognition of her clinical and academic contributions.

Over the course of her career, Dr. Wadhwa has held several senior leadership and academic roles at leading institutions such as Medanta The Medicity and Paras Hospital, and has also served as Assistant Professor at the Institute Rotary Cancer Hospital at AIIMS. Her clinical practice focuses strongly on Precision Oncology, where treatment strategies are tailored based on tumour biology, genetic profiling, and individual patient factors. She is experienced in delivering advanced therapies including chemotherapy, immunotherapy, targeted therapy, and antibody drug conjugates, with a special interest in women's cancers.

Dr. Wadhwa is also a well-known author and educator. She has written widely appreciated books including Breast Cancer: Fear, Facts and Hope and Diet and Cancer: Mystery, Myth and Truth, and has delivered more than 400 scientific lectures nationally and internationally. Her work reflects a strong commitment to patient education, early detection, and preventive oncology.

At Apollo Athenaa, Dr. Jyoti Wadhwa brings a compassionate, holistic, and patient-first philosophy to cancer care. She integrates supportive and palliative care into treatment planning, ensuring emotional and psychological well-being alongside clinical outcomes. Fluent in English and Hindi, she connects easily with patients and families, offering clarity, reassurance, and trust at every stage of the cancer journey.
