Overview

Dr Ajay Kumar Sharma is a highly respected Renal Transplant Surgeon at Apollo Hospitals Delhi, where he brings a wealth of 39 years of hands-on clinical experience to the forefront of kidney care and transplantation. With a background spanning BSc (Honours), MBBS, MS, DNB, multiple FRCS credentials, and an MSc in Medical Education, he is known for guiding patients through the intricate journey of kidney disease, dialysis, and transplant medicine. He consults Wednesdays through Saturdays, from 10:00 to 19:00, ensuring comprehensive care and support for pre-and post-transplant patients.

Dr Sharma is fluent in English and Hindi, which enables him to connect with people across diverse backgrounds and provide clarity regarding transplant-related risks, post-surgical management, immunosuppressive therapies, and patient-centric recovery plans. He blends surgical innovation with genuine empathy, working closely with nephrologists, urologists, and allied professionals to maintain optimal graft function and long-term health. His founding philosophy centers on holistic care, patient advocacy, and constant learning. Patients and medical colleagues often note his determination, precision, and collaborative approach, making him a distinguished leader in transplant excellence for Delhi and North India.
